Ho Chi Minh – On Red Book and the List that Chinese Mao Followers Always Have to Make and to Contribute to the Assertion on Politics and Militant Talking as Highest Lifestyle and Politician Theses of Marx and Engels of Course

By Ho Chi Minh

I. Theses first

A. Make organic political notes on Red Book, Pocket Pantheon, also Jotting style and Chinese Language styles and even newspapers and all the listing arguments like Book of Tea and Militancy.

II. Glad to be Recognised Finally
I meant just that, a type of organic intellectual and militant thesis of reading in old sage like Chinese appearances that even Sirohi has in fact they say in Chinese scholarship.

Be a Chinese Scholar otherwise, use such old rare footage and arguments. Love Dalai Lama admiring Chinese appearances with Sirohi.

Read in that light –

Wei Chi and Modern Chinese History – and in fact organic militant notes –

If one reads the peasant revolt of April, Spring Thunder 1921 first with Mao and his daily routine, he meant to be fit to politics and in fact speak to the people lesser but organize a political travel and work among the people.

In Wei Chi – a simple move from this standpoint for us who live bourgeois lives in households as militants facing liberal debacles of Nunes and Syriza each day on their liberal failing elections instead of living politics with Sirohi, we then add

A Wei Chi move – daily routine is not liberal politics and De Gaulle talking – but in fact radical thesis of Trotskyism or Maoism, and its more Spirit connotations. It can be more materialist for Sirohi as – Wei Chi – simply be happy and live mass politics as a politician and philosopher – one can also opt for pure politics and the philosophers will confirm in Sylvain Lazarus style what is going on – not Hegel style alone.

For their wisdom to join our concrete search which then in Ho Chih Minh Style of organic image is then considered in Wei Chi – winning as insurrectional debate and life routine.

Just be radical Wei Chi meant in three moves from Mao to the present – I add write more, read more and be enthusiastic.

I also mean Sirohi is a political philosopher – in fact I mean be such a Machiavelli person – just be fox but more lion. Talk later I am sure it works too philosophically my arguments.

But I mean of course the opposite – enjoy philosophy, but also enjoy politics. It is proven again, that Chinese language and Scholarly people admit to me, I spoke to foreigners Sirohi knows in historian senses – that politics in Mao is a rare art and a scholarly affair, such Red Book art.
